

Flexicam protects your drivers in case of an on-road incident – helping to reduce insurance claims and improve driver safety without any contracts or installation fees.

Protecting your fleet

Flexicam technology consists of forward facing or rear facing cameras, designed to record journeys and provide secure footage in the event of an incident.

Drivers are protected in case of false claims, with Flexicam recordings often being used to absolve employees. The footage can also show damage to third party vehicles and, crucially, how many people were in the other vehicle, which deters inflated personal injury claims.

Flexicam technology includes:

- > High quality, forward facing or rear facing cameras
- > Driver behaviour measurement
- > Crash detection
- > Cloud connected
- > Reporting and alerts

Reporting and support

Managers can use Flexicam footage to support drivers in dealing with near-misses on the road, helping them to adapt to a safer driving style.

Flexicam also includes driver behaviour measurement and crash detection tools that can immediately transmit data for reporting and alerts.
